

Party Lines Tautly Drawn For Senior Class Election; All Petitions Are O. K.'d

Richard Butler, Tom Nichols
Are Presidential Candidates of Two Factions

By MALCOLM PATTERSON
Kernel Political Writer

Eight petitions of candidates for senior class offices in the election to take place Thursday, October 29, were approved yesterday afternoon by the student council committee on elections, composed of Robert Grace, Paul Ross, and George Spencer.

The Fraternity combine is sponsoring Tom B. Nichols for president; Henry Miller, for vice-president; Jeanne Short, for secretary, and Laban Jackson, for treasurer.

The Independent combine's candidates are Richard Butler, president; Dave Flanders, vice-president; Mary Edith Bach, secretary, and Carl Vannoy, treasurer.

The election hours will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., with the balloting being held in the basement of the Administration building, the committee said.

Voters must present their student athletic books for identification in order to vote, the committee further stated.

Each political combine offered a complete slate of candidates, with no one not affiliated with the factions being offered for office as the time for petitions to be in was closed.

The chairmen of the two cliques, Fred Fugazzi and Joe Craft, of the Fraternity faction and Reynolds Watkins of the Independent combine, stated that they have their "fences repaired" and are ready to put the force of their organizations behind their candidates. Both leaders expressed desires for clean campaigning and voting.

In fact, the two factions have been building up for the respective victory and let-down since last week, when they held their secret meetings and selected their candidates. Representatives from each fraternity in the two cliques attended these meetings.

The organizations composing the Fraternity combine are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta, Triangle, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Phi Kappa Tau, Kappa Delta, and Phi Kappa Alpha.

The Independent combine, which claims to have the support of all students not affiliated with fraternities, is made up of Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Sigma Phi, Kappa Alpha, Gamma Delta, Alpha Delta, Theta, Kappa Sigma, Delta Zeta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Delta Chi organizations. Representatives from Delta Tau Delta fraternity stated they had not decided to support either of the two cliques.

Transfer Students Will Make Plans At Meet Thursday

The YWCA Transfer club, an organization for all women students who have transferred from other universities, will hold their second meeting of the year at 7:30 o'clock Thursday, Oct. 29, in the Boyd hall reading room.

An "Intercollegiate Night" has been planned by the newly elected chairmen of the club, who are Anne Pence, Nelle Pennington, and Virginia Richardson. The members will exchange traditions, stories of their campus activities, and other interesting customs, carried on in their universities which differ from those present on this campus.

The club was started last year by the YWCA, since transfer students felt that they could not meet other students, and could not become oriented quickly. This year there are fifty members in the club.

PERSHING RIFLES COMPANY MEETS

Lieut. Col. B. Brewer addressed candidates and members of Company C, Pershing Rifles, last night in Buell armory.

The junior members of the company gave an exhibition of the "Wildcat" intricate drill movement, followed by the drilling of the sophomores by Captain Stivers, showing the fundamental drill movements that will be taken up.

Remaining candidates will drill and fifteen men will finally be chosen by the officers. The following schedule is to be followed: Companies A, B, C, Friday; and E, F, G, Monday from 4 to 5 p. m.

AG STUDENTS WIN PRIZE

An adult tom marmoth bronze turkey owned by Ralph Lusby, Owenton, won the grand championship at the American royal livestock show in Kansas City. The same turkey won second place at the University turkey festival last year.

JOINT MEETING OF EDUCATORS TO OPEN FRIDAY

Approximately 1,000 Representatives Expected at Annual Conference
On Campus

MOREHEAD PRESIDENT
WILL OPEN SESSION
Prominent Speakers Included
On Two-day Educational Program

A joint meeting of the thirteenth annual educational conference, the second annual meeting of the Kentucky Association of Deans of Women will be held at the University Friday and Saturday of this week. Approximately 1,000 educators throughout the state are expected to attend the conference which will convene at 9:30 a. m. Friday in Memorial hall.

The general meeting Friday morning will be convened by President H. A. Babb, Morehead State Teachers' College, president of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and will be presided over by Dr. Frank L. McVey. Speakers for the meeting will be Dr. Raleigh Schorling, professor of secondary education at the University of Michigan; Dr. H. Gordon Hulfish, professor of education of Ohio State University and Dr. Homer P. Rainey, director of the American Youth Commission of the American Council on Education.

The secondary and college commissioners are scheduled to meet at noon Friday at the Lafayette hotel, and a meeting of the college section, and the secondary school section, and the sectional meetings will be held at 3 p. m. Friday afternoon.

The deans of women will meet at a luncheon in the Lafayette hotel at noon Friday. The same night at 6:30 o'clock a joint banquet for all groups will be held at the Phoenix hotel. President Babb and Doctor Rainey will speak and Doctor McVey will preside.

Sectional meetings, including a discussion on art education and a talk on "Etching and Etching Processes," will be held Saturday. The same morning will also be devoted to a joint meeting of the colleges and secondary schools group and a breakfast for the deans of women at the Lafayette hotel.

The conference on business education will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in room 221 of the Education building, with Prof. A. J. Lawrence, head of the department of business education of the University, presiding.

BAND TO TAKE DONATIONS

The old custom of "passing the hat" will be revived Saturday at the home-coming game. The University of Kentucky's "Best Band in Dixie" will pass among the spectators at the game with boxes and blankets to receive all donations. This money will be used to finance a trip to the Thanksgiving game between Kentucky and Tennessee.

Kyian Pictures Still Obtainable

Pictures may still be obtained for the Kentuckian. For a short time only, Kentuckian pictures will be taken at the Lafayette studios at Main and Mill streets. Those who have not yet obtained proofs or those who have proofs to return may do so at the studio. This should be done immediately.

"Personal Appearance," Initial Offering of Guignol Theater, Opens for Run of Week

By CHADWICK BRIDGEWAY

"Personal Appearance" opened last night at the Guignol playhouse on Euclid avenue for a week's run. It should be longer.

Aside from one or two points, we liked everything about "Personal Appearance." Especially we liked one Dossett Reid, a newcomer, who plays the part of Bud as we imagine Mr. Riley dreamed of him when he wrote the play. Mr. Reid is a natural and the Guignol had better hang on to him against the time when it needs another character anything like Bud.

Jeanette Lampert Brown gets the drop on her audience by appearing in a motion picture shot of the conclusion of the Benjamin Z. Fineberg production, "Drifting Lady," with Carroll Hamilton, sadly reminding of the old silent days, although both screen well, and speak their lines astonishingly well.

Mrs. Brown's role is that of the over-acting screen idol. She over-acts to perfection, turning her emotions off and on with ease and finesse.

Week-End Plans Are Announced By Alumni Office

Registration Will Be Held in Lafayette, Phoenix
Hotels

Kentucky Homecoming activities, headed by Lieut.-Gov. Keen Johnson, president of the alumni association, starting with a gigantic pep meeting and bonfire Friday night and ending with an Alumni dance Saturday night will occupy the spotlight of activities for the coming week-end.

Registration booths for alumni will be located in both Phoenix and Lafayette hotels as well as in the Alumni office of the Administration building. All alumni are urged to register so as to be given information as to the various luncheons, dinners and other activities for the week-end.

Immediately following the Kentucky-Alabama game, the customary alumni tea will be given at Maxwell Place by President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey. All friends and Alumni of the University are invited to the affair which is informal. Guests of honor will be Governor A. B. Chandler and Lieut. Gov. Keen Johnson.

The Alumni dance will be held Saturday night from 9 until 12 and will cap the week-end activities for the homecoming. Music is to be furnished by Andy Anderson and his orchestra.

A Stroller Alumni breakfast will be held at the Phoenix hotel at ten thirty Saturday morning.

Numerous luncheons and dinners will be given and many sorority and fraternity houses will be decorated to welcome the old grads back "home."

RESULTS GIVEN IN 'MUM' SALE

Mortar Board Sells 200 Chrysanthemums for Florida
Game; Sales Will Continue
This Week.

More than 200 chrysanthemums were sold for the Kentucky-Florida game last Saturday by Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary. It was announced yesterday by Nellie Nevins, president.

The profits of this sale will be used for the Student Loan fund as have profits from the other flower sales given by Mortar Board in the past. This is the second year that Mortar Board is making it possible for students to purchase flowers inexpensively for the big football games of the year.

Information concerning the sale of chrysanthemums for the Alabama-Kentucky game and any orders can be placed through members of Mortar Board. Members of the organization are Nellie Nevins, Mary Rees Land, Dot Whalen, Theo Nadelstein, Nell Shearer, Helen Farmer, Betty Earle, Camille Hedges, Margaret Lewis Whaley, Virginia Robinson, and Sarah Louise Cundiff.

Professor Bigge To Address Club

Prof. E. E. Bigge, head of the department of German of the University, will address the weekly meeting of the International Relations club at 4 p. m. Wednesday, October 28, in the Woman's building, taking for his subject certain phases of the situation in present-day Germany.

The club recently received a shipment of books on current problems from the Carnegie endowment, which have been placed in the reserve reading room of the library. They may be read by anyone interested, and members of the club are privileged to take them out for a week at a time.

DAMERON DAVIS TABS
ON LONG PUNT RETURN

A sluggish Kentucky football eleven managed to eke out a 7 to 0 victory over Coach Josh Cody's fighting Florida 'Gators Saturday afternoon on Stoll field. Coach Wynne's boys scored when Dameron Davis gathered in Brock's punt on Florida's 40-yard line and raced to a touchdown, and Elmore Simpson place-kicked the ball squarely through the uprights for the extra point.

Dameron Davis got off his spectacular run with 6 minutes remaining in the first half. The younger Davis, playing in place of his injured brother, gathered the ball to his chest and shook off several Florida players in his 40-yard dash to the goal line.

Kentucky kicked off to the 'Gators to start the game. After trying two plays, Florida, unable to gain, punted. The Big Blue was also forced to punt as it was unable to gain against the heavy Florida line.

Neither team was able to gain with any consistency in the first half. Simpson had slightly the better of a punting duel with Brock. Florida right half.

Coach Wynne placed Johnson and Sands, 200-pound ball carriers, in the lineup to start the second half. The Wildcat offensive clicked in mid-field but bogged down when it neared scoring territory.

Late in the third quarter, "Red" Hagan blocked a Florida punt. The ball flew high in the air and dropped into the arms of Gene Myers, Wildcat center, who ran from his own 45-yard line to Florida's 39-yard marker. He was injured on the play and was replaced by Black. Bert Johnson then ran around end to give the Wildcats a first down on the 27-yard line. Johnson went through tackle for five yards. He then tossed a pass to Simpson that was good for another first down.

Davis then carried the ball and made a first down on the Florida five-yard line. Davis added another yard and Johnson picked up three more. At this point, Simpson fumbled the ball on an attempt to punt.

WEBB TO ATTEND MEETING

Professor Wm. S. Webb, head of the physics department, will leave the latter part of this week for New York to attend the joint meeting of the founder societies of the American Institute of Physics to be held from Oct. 29 through Oct. 31.

GIGANTIC RALLY PLANS FORMED

Homecoming Pep Event to Be Held at 7:30 o'clock Friday
Night in U. K. Alumni
Gymnasium.

Plans for Suky's gigantic homecoming pep rally, to be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the Alumni gymnasium, and rules for the annual homecoming house decoration contest were announced yesterday by the committee in charge of these events.

Features of the pep rally will be talks by President McVey, Coach Wynne and varsity players, and introduction of the team. The University Band will be on hand with some special music. As in past rallies, a public address system will be installed to facilitate direction of the program.

Following the program in the gymnasium, the band will lead a parade through the downtown section, followed by members of Suky circle on a fire-truck. The parade will terminate on Stoll field with cheers and music before a huge bonfire. In accordance with a recent ruling of the Men's Student Council, all freshmen are asked to bring their caps to be burned in the fire.

The annual house decoration contest is open to all fraternity and sorority houses and to the residence halls. Cups are awarded to the best house in both classes. Decorations will be judged on the amount of time spent, the effectiveness of the decoration, and the originality of idea. Judging will begin at 10 a. m. Saturday morning and organizations are urged to have their decorations ready by that time.

Collegiate Press To Meet on Friday

KIPA Meeting to Be Held in Conjunction With ACP
In Louisville

The fifteenth annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press will be held in Louisville on Oct. 29, 30 and 31.

The opening convocation at 8 p. m. Thursday will feature the address of Herbert Agar, Pulitzer prize winner, who will speak on the topic "If I Were A College Editor." Roundtable meetings are scheduled for Friday, with a luncheon at noon at which the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times will be host. The day will end up with the convention dance at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Saturday will wind up the convention with the final convocation at which John B. Kennedy, NBC commentator, and former associate editor of Collier's magazine, will speak. The Kentucky Inter-collegiate Press association, which was scheduled to hold its fall convention at the University, will convene in Louisville in conjunction with the Associated Collegiate Press.

Purchasing Group Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Intrafraternity Purchasing corporation of the University held on Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Intrafraternity office in the department of building and grounds, the following officers were elected for the current year: president, Lemuel Atchinson; vice-president, M. J. Crutcher; secretary, Bus Carpenter and treasurer, Thomas Boyd.

The corporation, founded in 1931, is composed of all the sororities and most of the fraternities on the campus.

YWCA GROUP TO HEAR SOCIAL SERVICE TALK

The social service group of the YWCA, which is making a survey of social conditions in Kentucky, will have Mrs. Tom Marks as its guest speaker at 3 p. m. Wednesday, in the Woman's building.

Mrs. Marks, who is the director of the Child Welfare bureau of Lexington, and a member of the Kentucky Child Welfare committee, will speak on "Social Conditions in Lexington." During the semester the group will visit reform schools, orphan asylums, and other institutions in Kentucky. Any YWCA member may sign up for the group before the next meeting.

AG HAS RECORD ENROLLMENT

Topping all previous records, the College of Agriculture of the University has an enrollment of 437 farm men and women representing 44 counties of Kentucky, 13 other states and England.

Doctor McVey Receives Word
From Washington of
New Funds for Construction

BIDS TO BE TAKEN ON UNION BUILDING

$1,100,000 Original Request
Is Met by New Donation

An additional PWA grant of $327,272, bringing the total federal appropriation for the University's building program to the originally requested amount of $1,100,000, was approved for release yesterday by officials in Washington, according to an announcement late yesterday by President Frank L. McVey.

The additional money granted will be used to carry ahead the rest of the original building program. Doctor McVey said, and the balance of funds will be used for a west engineering building, a science building, an art building, and equipment for the student union building.

The originally requested amount, which was applied for early last year, provided for a building program to include a central heating plant, a student union building, a law building, and two engineering buildings. The cost approximately $1,100,000. Of this program, work on the central heating plant is now nearing completion, and work on the engineering quadrangle is in progress. Bids for a student union building, which will be the third building on the program, will be called for in about a month, Doctor McVey said.

All loans granted through the federal government to colleges are on a 45-55 basis, that is, the government furnishes 45 per cent and the institution 55 per cent of the total cost of a building. The institution issues bonds for its share of the cost.

Doctor McVey expressed appreciation to the Washington authorities for granting the extra funds and also to Dean James H. Graham and his associates for their work in helping to obtain the money.

HERE SHAKE THE KERNEL PRESS ALL STUDENT RIGHTS MAINTAIN

POINT NO. 1 FOR OPTIONAL CLASS ATTENDANCE FOR SENIORS

Some discussion has been provoked over a premise in the editorial of last week which read as follows: "Class room technique of teachers would have to be improved in order to attract seniors to class. This improvement would spread itself into the lower division and alleviate one of the more serious problems of the campus."

By class room technique is meant the manner in which the instructor is able to "put across" to his students the meaning of a particular course, using his personality, his own embellishments, and his peculiar technique, as opposed to a dry rehearsing of the contents of a text book.

In institutions where the optional class attendance system has been successfully put into practice, it has been found that the professor noted for his inability to keep students interested, and therefore, his inability to teach a course, suffered a decrease in prestige when students refused to attend his class. In this way, the professor either was forced to change his methods, putting new vigor into his class work or resign his position at the institution.

Harsh? There may be some disagreement as to that, but it must be admitted that if a teacher cannot attract and hold the interest of students in his field, no matter what it may be, he should forego his right as a teacher and turn to experimentation, research or some other work to which he would be more adapted. At any rate, it is unfair to students to impose upon them a teacher who year after year proves to be unable to conduct a course satisfactorily.

Likewise, those teachers whose subjects are open to lower division students, would feel the renewed vitality which, as has been said before, of necessity would come about.

The Kernel feels that keeping instructors on their toes, so to speak, constitutes one of the major academic problems at the University, and many of the administration will concur in this. It also believes that the best way to overcome this problem would be to put into immediate effect the optional class attendance system for seniors.

CONGESTION AT UNIVERSITY DANCES

Congestion in the checking of coats and hats at University dances was very forcibly brought out at the Sucky dance in the Alumni gymnasium Saturday night. One cloak room cannot hope to serve a crowd as large as was in attendance at this dance. Apparently, there are a few persons in the school who cannot act the part of gentlemen and wait their turn in line. Consequently, those who did wait, saw these inconsiderate crowd into the checking room from the front, tearing down the bar that was placed there.

The fault is not with those who are in charge of the checking. It is the result of an inadequate system for a growing institution—the University dances. We believe that something should be done about this situation before the homecoming dance Saturday night. There is no reason why a person attending a dance should be forced to spend at least one-half hour of his time standing in a checking line.

Two checking rooms would relieve the situation to a considerable extent. An entrance to these checking rooms could be constructed so that only a single line could enter at a time and from the side only. Under existing conditions, only the playing of the role of gentlemen on the part of the students could relieve the situation.

VIVID CONTRAST

Selection of a fraternity in no way resembles selection of a wife, so the University of Washington Daily says.

The editor of that campus journal stated it thusly:

It is a funny thing the way a man picks a wife. First he meets her. Then he "steps her out" a few times and begins to like her. He examines her closely, analyzes her, watches her actions, her personality, her character, her disposition—everything that pertains to her (or at least he thinks he does), and then finally accepts or discards her; and then she accepts or discards him. Regardless of whether he really understands her at last, he at least tries to understand her. He takes his time. He is careful because he realizes he is signing himself up for life.

How different it is when a man picks his fraternity. No careful thought there. No watchful waiting. No cautious discrimination. It is just like leap year to him. Somebody jumps on him with a proposal of everlasting love and affection. Another puts on the badge while still another murmurs the fatal words, "Till death do us part." Hurriedly kissing him on both cheeks, they all run off to the next conquest, leaving the bewildered young groom alone, except for the mop and broom which some kind person gave him as a symbol of his new rank.

"Until death do us part." That phrase is applicable almost solely to these two things, both equally important to the young man. With one he is cautious, with the other foolish. But what can the poor fellow do? So long as fraternities have every year a leap year, and no year a sane year, there is no hope.

Happily, the above description of fraternity rushing is exaggerated to emphasize the mistakes each year of a small number of rushers. —The Daily Athenaeum.

Hooley Pollui

The big hand shake of the week goes to the Sigma Chi halfback, Sonny Boland who, after a spring, summer, and autumn love campaign, has finally placed his badge on one of the finest girls in the Blue Grass, Chlo Ann Stevenson.

This is a singularly strange story. It tells of how two Greek kids are not busy slashing each other's throats.

SAE Bill Harper is definitely a woman hater—except when Velma Hardesty comes near. Bill never makes a date with the blonde heart-thumper but he is usually in her company. And here's how he does it.

He gets his fraternity brother, Clayton Conleton, to call up Velma and ask her for a date, and would she mind if Harper came along. Of course not. So the boys fetch Velma, take her out, and while Conleton plays shot machines and wanders around gambling with friends, Harper stays near Velma to make sure that no one bothers Congo's date.

Those who remember the '33-'34 school year can easily recall that Kappa Kappa Gamma had an army of besiggers at her heels at all times. At the dances the imploring males stood five deep around her. If you took six steps with her, you took a long journey.

Things are different now. Nell stayed home two Sunday nights ago just reading Time and watching the fire. Yet Nell has lost none of her charm and interesting qualities but is probably a bit smarter and a little more fastidious. Hence, the short-sighted ones who do most of the courting have neglected her so far—because the untutored freshman are still agreeable enough to believe a restless man's line and his willingness to settle down for a week or two.

Another Kappa who felt the first pang of being a passing fancy is the jolly intellectual Betty Boyd. When Betty missed the Keys can-can it marked the first time she missed a dance on Saturday night since her soph year in high school. "The old order changeth yielding place to the new."

Congratulations to Andy Anderson, whose new sweet swing combination sounded great at the Sucky calisthenics last Saturday. The band had but five practices before that engagement. In five months it should be ready to go places.

Loosing your money on horse races makes you do peculiar things. Take the case of Helen Riddell who lost her own fortune out at Keeneland and in desperation began on her Sunday School club's treasury and managed to climb back into the black ink before the card was finished. A divine inspiration.

Lambda Chi John Hunt Morgan began courting Nancy Orrell, Joan of Arc at Western State last year, just one week ago. Sunday night Morgan placed his badge on her. Swiftly recovered from a romance with Delta Zeta Mary Nell Waldon.

Martha "I Love Lou" Alexander giddily waiting for Phidelt Johnny Creech to call on her at the Tridelt barracks. Sigma Chi Jim Chester, famous Murphy zealot, under the command of treacherous tea, pinner Nell Craik Saturday at 4 p.m., but she handed it back after the dance. Rosemary Clinkscales is receiving mail from the Georgia Tech room major who hasn't quite recovered from the striking figure she portrayed in Atlanta. And the wild man who tried to pin Frances Woods at the W. & L. game has written to her and phoned her enough times to prove he really has a case on her. The many-times-married to Connor Dawson Dodd Best strolling into the Tavern with Jean Short. Betty Boyd shifts from the backfield into the line. Howard Boaz is his name. Richie Baker came to town again this past week-end to find her old roommate, Helen Irvine, romping around with Andy Anderson. Jane Hardwick announces to the world that she has thrown in the towel and ended her bout with Red Simpson. What's all this about House Mother Jesse Willmott chasing Mary Scott around the ATO ranch? The most attractive couple on the campus is SAE pledge John Shelton and the swoon-invoking Evelyn Flowers. Warrp Stevenson sent flowers to Polly Dawson before the Florida game, making things too tough for Polly to break the date, even though L. E. Fish, Polly's old cracker, came to town to take her to the tussle. Marjorie Weaver, campus sensation a few years ago, has signed a movie contract. Taking a hint from the Lost and Found department, Bob Forsythe is again kindling his dilemma with Helen Irvine. More Tridelt pledges, heretofore unnoticed in this column, are Betty Bakhaus and Elizabeth Branch. You would have to search through a million girls to find two prettier coeds. Jack "Hello thar" Grain roared into Lexington for the game and almost shook himself to death shaking hands and drinks. Betty Davis and Katherine Ried, who wear the White Stars of Chol-le Mades and Boo Houlihan respectively, came back for the Sigma Nu formal picnic, the game, and to check up on the department of their popular henchmen. KD Virginia Logan, now at Western State, was welcomed back by hundreds of eager dance mates. Every other collegian was suffering from a charley horse in the stomach Sunday morning. Joe Hicks, who fell in love with Mary Scott's sister last week, is waiting for his summer romance, Alma Love, to arrive for the home-coming sport and Bacchanalia. Joe "Jay Jay" Jordan, of Four Bits fame in the Lexington Leader, is being pressed by Kappa Anne Law Lyons.

Most of the middle part of the Kentucky grandstand missed the stirring 'Gator drive in the last quarter because Billy Greenwell and Bad John Gilmore, the mail box hoodlum, slapped and mauled one another to the leering delight of the newspapermen and hundreds of people sitting around them. Bill Holster made sure he would have a date for Friday night by making three. The gentleman then waited until Friday afternoon to pick the winner, Evelyn Spears. As long as Jimmy Hunt waits tables in the Alphagam tepee he will always have girl friends. The pledges are groggy about him, but he concentrates, along with lechthyologist Jack Lancaster, on Alice Adams. Incidentally, Hunt's pin is in Missouri with Virginia Johnson. And they're still at the dances. The maudlin stags and their heart-breaking problems.

Among the 600,000 titles owned by the University of Wisconsin historical library, three were printed before 1500 and 33 printed between 1500 and 1597.

For Digestion's Sake . . . Smoke Camels

Smoking Camels with meals and after helps bring a delightful sense of well-being

EATING is one of life's real pleasures. And Camels make it even more enjoyable! Thanks to Camels, food tastes better and digestion goes along more smoothly. For it is a scientifically established fact that smoking Camels at mealtime and after speeds up the flow of digestive fluids... alkaline digestive fluids, which good digestion and proper nutrition require. Mild, rich-tasting Camels are a refreshing stand-by the whole day through. They give you a cheery "lift" when you need it most. Camels set you right! They never get on your nerves... tire your taste... or irritate your throat. So, make Camel your cigarette!

MENTAL EFFORT TOO—especially long hours of study—builds up tension and puts an extra strain on digestion. When you're tired, get an invigorating "lift" with a Camel. And at mealtime and after, "for digestion's sake... smoke Camels." Camels set you right!

LESTER STOEFFEN, tennis champion whose smashing service goes at the amazing speed of 131 miles an hour. He prefers Camels. "An athlete has to have good digestion," says Lester. "I smoke a lot during meals and after. Camels make food taste better and digest easier."

Editor,
The Kentucky Kernel.

Dear Sir:

Why has the University of Kentucky allowed Centre College to score another crushing victory over it this year? Not on the gridiron but an impressive victory, nonetheless, in smart public relations.

Kentucky has not played a football game in Louisville since it terminated athletic relations with the University of Louisville several years ago. Centre usually manages to play at least one game here each year. Last year it was Washington and Lee; this year, the University of West Virginia.

The Kentucky-Notre Dame basketball game scheduled for Louisville this winter represents very intelligent strategy on the part of the athletic officials. But why not book a football game here for next fall?

Louisville is the gateway to southwestern Kentucky as well as southern Indiana. It has no first class college football available and the populace is hungry for it. While it is true that it is not very far over to Lexington, it is just far enough that most people who are required to work until noon on Saturdays cannot make the games there.

Each year Alabama plays several games at Birmingham. Notre Dame usually plays a game or two at Chicago, and many other institutions meet gridiron foes on neutral fields. The purpose being to exhibit their wares to as many of their alumni as possible, and to also develop friendship and support of these metropolitan centers.

If the University of Kentucky is to grow and prosper, it must sell itself to the people of the state. Louisvillians, generally, are prejudiced against the University of Kentucky and do not hesitate to voice their dislike of it. The University, itself, is largely responsible for this attitude. For too long it has played the role of a recluse and has failed to build an esprit 'd corps among the citizens of the state, including its own alumni. As a result, compare the type of buildings and equipment at Lexington with the buildings and equipment of most of the state's too numerous normal schools.

It requires more than synthetic appeal for alumni support, to construct a militant alumni organization. Alumni will respond with earnest enthusiasm when it is manifested that the institution is tangible, which can best be displayed by arranging for its athletic teams to play in Louisville more often. There the contests will be witnessed by thousands who will never and can never go to Lexington but who will always loyally support the University.

Alumni News

ROBERT K. SALYERS, Secretary

Dear Alumnus:

This week-end is your homecoming.

A refreshing visit to the campus and its building, "back when" reminiscing with former class mates, a pep rally by Suky, dinners and luncheons by various fraternal organizations, music by the "best band in dixie", and an Alumni Dance climaxing the activities, are only a few of the many things in store for you when you come "back home" to renew old acquaintances and watch the Kentucky Wildcats fight it out with the Crimson Tide from Alabama, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Registration booths for alumni will be located in both Lafayette and Phoenix hotels and at the Alumni Office in the Administration building. Be sure to register as soon as you arrive so that we can give complete information about the schedule for homecoming activities.

President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey will be at home to alumni and friends of the University immediately following the Kentucky-Alabama game. The homecoming tea at the Maxwell place is informal and all friends are invited to attend. Guests of honor will be Governor A. B. Chandler and Lieut.-Governor Kenn Johnson, president of the Alumni Association.

The Wildcats expect plenty of stiff opposition from Alabama, and they will need the support of all the alumni in order to win from this team.

Be sure to join us for the week-end, see your old friends, talk over the "old days", and enjoy being "back home".

Signed,
Bob Salyers

RAILROADS

Welcome New Ideas

Young people today should find much to their liking in the policies of management adopted by our modern railroads. Nothing is sacred merely because it is old. Policies are based solidly upon the test-tube findings of current public usefulness and favor. • Consider these evidences of railway experimentation: Reduced fares, faster and more convenient schedules, streamline trains, added comfort and beauty in passenger equipment, lower-priced meals, air-conditioning, free pillows for coach passengers, free pick-up and delivery of less-than-carload freight—such innovations bring luster to the long-held railway advantages of safety, economy and dependability. • The Illinois Central System is especially proud of its Green Diamond, $425,000 mile-a-minute streamline train recently placed in service. It has been called a rolling laboratory, in which will be worked out principles affecting the development of future passenger transportation, and it embodies the latest findings of science in a wide variety of fields. Favorably received, it gives every promise of fulfilling its chosen mission. • Thus deeds give proof of progress and confirm the skilled determination of railway management and personnel to keep in the very forefront of transportation. American railroads in such ways are daily justifying their kinship with the college and university world.

REMINDER...

Education today must keep in touch with the railroads. Fundamentals everybody ought to know are what the railroads mean as carriers, employers, taxpayers, purchasers, fields of investment and foundations of national defense. Educators especially should remember that railway taxes keep 1,600,000 students in school; that railway bonds are the backlog of many an endowed institution; that the railroads today, in keeping with the spirit of all true education, are forging ahead progressively to new goals.

Kentucky's in-and-out football club conquered Florida last Saturday but almost made Coach Wynne a nervous wreck in doing so. The Wildcats made plenty of yardage out around midfield but lacked a scoring punch once they came within threatening distance of the 'Gator goal.

The 'Cats may have been victims of overconfidence or it may have been that Florida was just a plenty tough club, but the fact remains that Kentucky did not look too good in its offensive efforts.

It is true that the absence of Bob Davis weakened the Wildcat running attack but it could not account entirely for the scoring slump. And his replacement, brother Dameron Davis, gave one of the outstanding performances of the day, and incidentally, registered the only touchdown.

Tommy Coleman gave another good exhibition and Bert Johnson treated the crowd to several thrills with flashes of his old-time brilliance. But these three had to work almost single-handedly on offense.

As in the majority of the season's games, the blocking for the ball-toters was of a noticeably inferior sort. On end sweeps, especially, was the blocking poor and very little protection was given

Johnson and Coleman when they dropped back to pass. Several of Bert's throws were made on the dead run with three and four 'Gators right on top of him.

It appears that the Wildcats will never master the art of blocking. Very seldom, if ever, have they given a real, confident, rugged exhibition of taking out opponents, even against inferior competition. And that's probably what has held them back from being a great team.

And if the Wildcats expect to beat Alabama this week-end, they'll have to show a lot more ability than they did against Florida, in practically every department.

Here are a couple of stories concerning football which we heard over the week-end. One concerns Coach Edward "Ship" Madigan, whose Gables of St. Mary's dropped a 7-6 decision to Fordham last Saturday.

After that game Madigan was being interviewed by Ed Thorgensen, one of the networks football programs. Thorgensen asked the coach which was the more valuable, a good line or a good backfield?

And without a moment's hesitation, Madigan came right back with the fast one, "With a good line up in front, the backs should be made to pay their way in."

The second story has to do with one of the seniors on the Wildcat football team. It seems that for three years fellow students and others have been approaching him before a game and asking him, "Who's going to win tomorrow?"

This question has irritated our senior for a long time now. Finally after a dozen or so had put the question to him in regard to the Florida tilt he grew weary.

The next one stopped him and inquired, "Who's going to win tomorrow?" And here's the reply:

"Well," said the senior in his best confidential manner, "I'm not quite certain. And I think that's one of the main reasons why they've gone to the trouble of scheduling the game tomorrow."

Maybe you've never stopped to think how foolish some of those questions you've asked have sounded.

Saturday Sidelights...One of the afternoon's neatest plays was Tommy Coleman's tackle of Mayberry after the latter had intercepted a pass and started out into the clear...Tommy hit him just above the angles and cut him down immediately...Gene Myers again stood out...star performances are just a habit with the Marlan boy now...Red Simpson's attempt at a quarterback sneak from the one-yard line would have been a honey had it worked...as Johnson, Davis, and Sands stood apparently arguing among themselves before the expected shift, Simpson took Black's pass from center and tried to fall over the line...the forward surge of 'Gators knocked the ball out of his hands directly into the path of a Florida receiver...Carey Spier, former 'Cat backfield luminary, assisted Linesman Tolley in place of Pug Bach, who was absent from that position for the first time in three years...the band really opened up its bag of tricks during the intermission and drew a big hand from the audience for its variety of formations.

REES VISITS ROTC UNIT

Captain James E. Rees, who was stationed at the University of Kentucky from 1929 through 1934, has just returned from Fort Clayton, in the Canal Zone for a visit with the ROTC unit here. Captain Rees has been transferred from the Canal Zone to Fort McChesney, Ala.

tempted quarterback sneak through center. Florida recovered and punted out of danger.

With less than four minutes remaining in the game, Florida went from its own 28 to Kentucky's one-yard line. The passing of Mayberry, 'Gator quarterback, was chiefly responsible for this offensive threat.

A lateral pass from Mayberry to Brock gave the 'Gators a first down on the Wildcat 6-yard line. Two more plays placed the ball on Kentucky's one-yard line. Mayberry then tried a wide end run but was tackled hard and fumbled. Sands recovering for Kentucky on the eight-yard line.

Coleman then made 27 yards around right end to get the Wildcats out of trouble. The game ended a few minutes later with Florida trying desperately to score by filling the air with long passes. Kentucky made a total of 258 yards to 73 yards for Florida, and made 13 first downs to 6 for the 'Gators. The Wildcats completed six of 14 passes attempted for a total gain of 52 yards. Florida completed five of 13 passes for a total gain of 98 yards. Kentucky intercepted one pass to two for the Florida eleven.
